The club will open its doors for members this Saturday. This view, taken from the No. 2 tee shows the lake, center, and clubhouse, swimming pool, and other facilities in background. Pleasant Valley Country Club To Open On Saturday

If pleasant weather prevails, many of the Pleasant Valley Country Club's 176 members and their families are expected to turn out for golfing and relaxation when the club opens this Saturday.

According to Country Club President Lynn Nickell, the club and grounds will open Saturday at about 10 a.m. Though not completely stocked, the pro shop will be open all day, as will the snack bar and other recreation facilities.

Tennis and badminton courts and some other recreational facilities will not be ready for use on opening day. But the shuffle board and croquet courts will be open, Nickell said.

Electric golf carts, which recently arrived, will be ready for use and the nine-hole golf course is expected to be filled with golfers on opening day.

The swimming pool will open at 1 p.m. Saturday and Sunday and will be open only on weekends through Memorial Day. After Memorial Day the pool will be open daily. The club was originally scheduled to open last Saturday. But heavy rains and high water prevented completion of certain essential tasks.

Nickell reported that most of the essential work has been completed this week. Being completed now are a new bridge to take the place of a low-water bridge across Caney Creek, and grading and graveling of the entrance road and parking area. This work will be completed by Friday, Nickell said.

Paving of the road and parking area will be done at a later date, he said.

Landscaping around the attractive 80x30-ft. clubhouse was completed Wednesday, and furnishings for the clubhouse arrived and were installed the same day.

Larry Lewis is groundskeeper and his wife, Rosemary, will be in charge of the snack bar and pro shop.

Organized last year, the country club has 176 members who as charter members, pay $150.00 per year for membership for themselves and their families. A year-round recreation program is planned.

Construction of the facilities at the country club was financed with a $170,000 loan from the Farmers Home Administration.

The club is located on the former Smith Perkins farm on lower Caney Creek, about four miles from West Liberty on KY-191.

A two-story frame home on the gently-rolling hill farm has been utilized as a home for the groundskeeper and his family.

Nearby are the new clubhouse and swimming pool with men and women's locker rooms.

The entire complex lies across Caney Creek from KY-191 and is partly hidden from view from the road by a row of trees.

The official opening of the club will be held at a later date.

COUNCIL VOTES FUNDS FOR JAIL REPAIR, TRUCK

Sunday Closing Discussed But No Vote Taken

The West Liberty City Council at its monthly meeting Monday night voted expenditures of $100.00 for a second-hand pickup truck for city street repair work and $275.00 for a gas heater for the jail.

Council also voted to allow city employees who have worked three or more for the city a two weeks vacation, and to accept bids for hot mix to repair city streets.

County Judge Gene Allen was present at the meeting to request the City's aid in purchasing the heater for the jail. He reported that the Fiscal Court has recently spent $1,600 for jail repairs. The City helps maintain the jail.

In other business, Council set the salary of recently-employed policeman Wilgus Vest at $300.00 per month.

Councilman Graden Walter, speaking for West Liberty citizens favoring enforcement of the Kentucky Sunday Closing Law, suggested that the Council make a decision on whether or not to enforce the law.

The matter was discussed at some length, but no vote was taken.

MORE RECEIVING FOOD STAMPS IN AREA COUNTIES

During March, 1970, a total of 193,215 persons in 63 Kentucky counties received nearly $4.8 million worth of USDA food stamp coupons. This was an increase of 14,640 over the number taking part in the program during February.

The increase in participation has been due largely to the inauguration of changes in the food stamp program. USDA Food and Nutrition Service officials report.

The changes included reduced purchase requirements and increased bonus allotments for many eligible families. In Morgan County, 2,796 persons received food stamps in March compared with 2,626 persons in February.

In Elliott County 1,366 persons received food stamps in March compared with 1,292 in February. (Continued on page five)

State Revenue Dept. Asks Review Of Local Tax Rolls

Assessments Here Up 4.2% But State Expects 5.5% Growth

Morgan County Tax Commissioner Harry Coffey reported this week that the inspection of the county's 1970 tax rolls by the Board of Supervisors may be delayed this year by the State Revenue Department which has asked to review 1970 tax assessments before approving them.

Agents of the State Revenue Department were here last week. They asked Coffey to postpone the meeting of the County Board of Supervisors, which was due to meet Monday of next week, May 11.

Coffey said he did not know whether the law permits him to delay the Board of Supervisors' inspection of tax rolls. But County Judge Gene Allen said he had not yet named the supervisors because the State Revenue Department wished to go over the rolls first.

Coffey said the unusual procedure by the Department of Revenue may presage a blanket increase of property assessments.

The State Revenue Department also has halted work of the Board of Supervisors in Elliott County.

Coffey said he had completed his work of assessing property for Morgan County and had made the first recapitulation of totals.

He said the county's total tax assessments for 1970 show an increase of $1,395,697 over last year's first recap — an increase of 4.2 percent.

The State Revenue Department said recently that it estimated average growth rate in Kentucky at 5.5 percent and that this growth should be reflected in local tax assessments. At the same time the State Department listed 51 counties had tax lists that were below this average growth rate. Included were Morgan and Elliott.

Assessment Up 4.2%

Tax Commissioner Harry Coffey completed his recapitulation of 1970 tax lists late last week.

The recap shows total assessed evaluation of all property in Morgan county for 1970 is $33,033,713 — an increase of $1,395,697 over last year's first recap of $31,638,016.

This is a yearly increase of 4.2 percent.

The State Department of Revenue in statements made in recent months said it expected the annual growth rate in Kentucky to average about 5.5 percent.

Coffey's first recap of 1970 assessments shows an increase in real estate evaluations of $773,313, up from $25,167,049 last year to $25,940,362 this year.

Tangible personal property evaluations total $5,484,187 this year, up $112,192 over last year's total of $5,371,995.

Bank shares, stocks and bonds and annuities also were up this year. Bank stock totals $644,190, an increase of $97,190. Stocks and bonds owned by Morgan countians total $940,699 this year, an increase of $54,052, and annuities total $24,275, an increase of $2,652 over last year.

In the real estate classifications, farm lands and improvement total $15,638,295 this year, an increase of $374,290 over last year.

Residential property, non-farm, totals $6,226,275 this year, an increase of $330,410 over last year.

Value of oil rights is $12,500 this year against 0 last year, and value of mineral and timber rights is $54,832, an increase of $25,088.

Commercial and industrial property evaluations total $2,109,800, a decrease of $69,100 over last year.

Motor vehicles are evaluated this year at $3,678,312, an increase of $118,273 over last year.

In other tangibles, merchants' inventories are evaluated at $1,002,836 this year, an increase of $118,273 over last year.

Drilling, mining and construction equipment is valued at $63,400, an increase of $56,800.

NEW COMMUNITY DEVELOPMENT CLUBS EYE IMPROVEMENT PROJECTS

Clubs Organized Under Auspices Of GEO Council

Four new community development clubs have been organized in Morgan County during recent months. The new clubs are at Crockett, Wrigley, Dingus, and Grassy Creek.

Two other community development clubs—at Caney and Ezel—have been in existence since 1965.

All were organized by local citizens under the auspices of the Northeast Kentucky Area Development Council with community improvement as their goals.

The area development council administers federal Office of Economic Opportunity projects in five Eastern Kentucky counties.

Officers elected to head the clubs are—

CROCKETT—Johnny Green, president; Stoney Mascen, vice president; and Quincy Hutchison, secretary.

WRIGLEY—Fred Wilson, president; Vinson Lumpkins, vice president; and Bonnie Lewis, secretary.

DINGUS—Anthony Beculhimer, president; Joe Jenkins, vice president; and Don Robbins, secretary.

CANEY—Ralph Perkins, president; Kenneth Barker, vice president, and Hazel Steele, secretary.

EZEL—John Oldfield, Jr., president; Edison Ratliff, vice president, and Sara Heagen, secretary.

CHIEF GOALS

Immediate goals of the clubs range from projects to clean streambeds of debris and trash, community garbage pickups and establishment of community garbage dumps, to organization of social activities.

Being sought are suitable buildings that can be renovated and utilized as community centers in each of the communities.

The Caney club has leased the basement of the Caney Lodge Hall as a community center, and at Ezel, Mr. and Mrs. John Oldfield, Jr. have provided a building which is being used as a center.

Social activities organized so far include ladies needle clubs at Ezel, Caney, Crockett, and at Wrigley.

At Wrigley, land for a community dump already has been leased on the farm of Glen Whitt on Winding Stairs Branch and an application for funds to help build an access road to the dump has been forwarded to the Northeast Area Council.

The Crockett Club so far has been unable to locate a suitable site for a dump, but the project is being given high priority.

The Caney club earlier had received incentive money from the area council to build a road and construct a dump site for residents of the Caney area. Also, a community garbage pickup service is in the planning stage.

A soil conservation and beautification program, financed in part with federal funds, is well along in the Caney Valley. The program which was applied for by the Caney club, has utilized Project Mainstream and Concentrated Employment Program to help clear stream banks.

Another project of the Caney club has been the cleaning of cemeteries.

The Ezel Community Development Club has bought and equipped a community fire truck with incentive money from the area council.

A school for mentally retarded children now located at West Liberty resulted from a drive spearheaded by the Ezel club, as was an effort which resulted in better street lighting at Ezel.

The Ezel club also is interested in obtaining land for a community dump.

Winter Damage Worst, Bid Openings Most

FRANKFORT, Ky. — State Highway Commissioner Eugene Goss believes damage to state roads by last winter's severe weather was "the worst in recorded history."

This was the reason, he said, the highway department was forced to raise its budget for primary-road resurfacing this summer to $4,176,000 from an estimated $2.2 million.

Another record, of a different kind, was also set when the highway department opened bids April 24 for a one-day total of about $33.8 million in road projects.

The previous record high in openings on a single day, Goss said, was $22 million on Feb. 16, 1968.

There's proof that people who are everlastingly on the go seldom arrive anywhere.

A Time for Calmness and Respect For Constituted Authority

With America beset by violence abroad and at home, now is a time to remain calm and not jump to snap decisions.

Calmness in crises can be good counsel any time. And now with our fighting forces taking the offensive in Cambodia to wipe out a long-protected sanctuary of Communist enemies, and with students rising in protest on many campuses, making America look like a divided nation, weak and torn by dissension, it is time for calmness.

And as a further counsel we would suggest to fellow Americans that we support our government in its foreign policy. Let no action be taken that would present the appearance of a divided nation for this is what our enemies seek to accomplish.

Stalin said that America would not have to be defeated from without, but that it would fall from the inside. And the Communists plan it that way, and are provoking and abetting the divisions within our country.

So, it behooves us as good citizens to support our armed forces and to present a united front.

And, as regards the protests and riots on our campuses, we would ask every college student to remain calm and take no part in protests that might lead to violence when fanned by paid organizers who are trained in the art of fomenting strife and violence.

And all of us should remember that governments are instituted for the protection of life and property. It thus follows that if such a society is to function, the members of that society must respect constituted authority. Dictatorship may be a more efficient type of government, but if the people should get a bad dictator they have no means of getting rid of him.

Our American government is the best ever devised by man. One cannot support it by preaching disrespect for constituted authority or by taking part in violent protests that lead to mob rule.

Wisdom of Lincoln

In Abraham Lincoln's writings and speeches there is much wisdom which was tailored for problems of his day and time and which can well be related to today's.

He listed 10 things we must avoid if we are to live effectively:

- They are:
- You cannot bring about prosperity by discouraging thrift.
- You cannot strengthen the weak by weakening the strong.
- You cannot help small men by tearing down big men.
- You cannot help the poor by destroying the rich.
- You cannot lift the wage earner by pulling down the wage payer.
- You cannot keep out of trouble by spending more than you earn.
- You cannot further the brotherhood of man by inciting class hatred.
- You cannot establish sound security on borrowed money.
- You cannot build character and courage by taking away a man's initiative and independence.
- You cannot help men permanently by doing for them what they could have done for themselves.

BUSINESS HERE AND HEREABOUTS

Factory orders in March fell 1.9% to a seasonally adjusted $53.3 billion, heightening the doubts of some analysts that the economic slowdown has ended. The report showed that durable goods orders declined 3.5% from February, or almost double the drop initially reported last week.

TALL BUILDING — Investors Heritage Life Insurance Co., with headquarters in Kentucky, announces it will build a 10 to 12 story central office building in Frankfort. Former Lt. Gov. Harry Lee Waterfield is president of the company.

KENTUCKY'S tax take from horse racing last year was $6.1 million, with $4.6 million of the total coming from the pari-mutuel levy on thoroughbred racing, the National Association of State Racing Commissioners said. The report stated further that Kentucky's 485 racing days drew 1,936,465 fans who bet almost $125 million. Total revenues received by the 30 states that permit racing was $461.4 million.

KENTUCKY'S GENERAL FUND REVENUE of $377,141,686 for first nine months of the fiscal year was .67 per cent below the estimate but nearly 8 per cent more than last year's receipts for the comparable period. The tax-receipt portion of the Road Fund for the three quarters was $122,804,439, up 5.3 per cent and almost exactly on the estimate. Revenue Commissioner James Luckett and Finance Commissioner Albert Christen said the trend indicates the General Fund would bid $524 million and the Road Fund $166 million for the year, as anticipated.

BEGLEY DRUG — Begley Drug Co., headquartered in Richmond, Ky., has its stock listed on the New York Stock Exchange. The company declared a semi-annual cash dividend on preferred stock last week and a dividend of 9 cents a share on common. The company operates 34 drug stores and seven pharmacies in three states, also 52 Big-B One-Hour Cleaners.

CONFEDERATE MONEY — Confederate money never was worth face value, and after the Union victory its value dropped to zero. But now Confederate bills are worth more than face value. An anonymous donor has given Yale University a collection of Confederate bills valued at $100,000. And collectors are grabbing up all they can find of the surviving bills. Only 607 of the Montgomery-issued $1,000 bills were printed, and they are now very valuable. Likewise only about 60 of the $500 bills are known to exist. They too are worth more than face value, we are told. So if there are any old Confederate bills in an attic, better gather them up and hold them.

Kentucky meat animals in 1969 reached a record high, totaling $327,030,000. This is an increase of 13 percent above the previous record high of $289,806,000 in 1968. A sharp 16 percent increase in cash receipts from the sale of hogs and a 12 percent increase from the sale of cattle more than offset a 16 percent decline in receipts from sheep and lamb sales. Sharp increases in prices for all meat animals were responsible for the higher 1969 cash receipts. Marketings changed only slightly from the previous year. Cattle marketings totaled 845,000 head, 1000 head above 1968. Calves sold numbered 487,000 head, compared with 456,000 head in 1968. Total hog marketings were up 1 percent at 2,108,000 head, compared to 2,083,000 in 1968. The number of sheep marketed was 9,000 head below 1968; sale of lambs had a 26,000 decline, for a total of 74,000 sold. Cattle sold at an average of $24.60, hogs at an average of $22, and calves at an average of $33.

OBSERVATIONS • AND • PREDICTIONS

INFLATION? — The present sharp downswing in the stock market (lowest in 6½ years one day last week) is an honest appraisal of how severely America's faith in the immediate future has been shaken. Continued inflation despite higher interest rates and less government spending indicates the government's policy may not be working. But the nation's economic life should be healthy. Because America still has vast wealth, immense productive capacity, almost unlimited skilled labor, more and more inventions and improvements, a public always ready to improve its living standards, and a rising population. Economic factors are present for continued business growth, but there seems to be a widespread public uneasiness about general conditions in the country. If these could be allayed and inflation halted, confidence could be restored.

KENTUCKY DERBY — Saturday's Kentucky Derby winner, Dust Commander, was bred in Ol' Kentucky, owned by a Kentuckian and trained by a Kentuckian, Robert E. Lehmann, retired construction company executive of Bourbon county, bought Dust Commander at the 1968 Keeneland Yearling Sales for $6,500. He is a son of Bold Commander, and was trained by Don Combs, a Kentuckian. Dust Commander already has won his Bourbon county owner more than 20 times his cost. Yes, the sun was shining bright in Kentucky Saturday, and the biggest crowd on record attended this biggest of all racing spectacles.

NO PROOF YET — The tobacco industry is mounting an advertising campaign challenging the American Cancer Society to release data on dog experiments linking smoking to lung cancer. An industry group said the society has declined to provide the data for a review of the experiments' validity.

PERKINS SEEKS FUNDS FOR DAMS

WASHINGTON, D. C. May 5 — Congressman Carl D. Perkins of Kentucky's 7th District, today called upon the House Public Works Committee to speed approval of funds needed to harness streams and reduce floods in Eastern Kentucky. The Hindman Democrat recommended that the subcommittee that it disregard budget recommendations and approve $200,000 to continue the flood protection project on Beaver Creek in Floyd county, $900,000 to start the Paintsville Reservoir on Paint Creek, $200,000 for Kehoe Reservoir on Tygart's Creek, $75,000 for the Yatesville Dam on Blaine Creek in Lawrence county, $5,250,000 to continue construction of Carr Fork Reservoir, and $6,425,000 to continue work on Cave Run Reservoir on Licking River.

AUTO EMISSION CAUSES BUILDUP OF CHOLESTEROL

WASHINGTON, D. C. — The air pollutant carbon monoxide, when inhaled over a long period of time by laboratory rabbits has been shown to cause an accumulation of cholesterol in their coronary arteries five times greater than even a high-cholesterol diet, according to the National Society for Medical Research.

The important new finding was reported at a recent three-day conference of the New York Academy of Sciences by Dr. Paul Astrup, a research chemist from Copenhagen, Denmark.

This latest discovery comes at a time when automobile manufacturers are apparently taking dramatic steps to control emission of carbon monoxide from their new automobiles. Hydrocarbons from new cars in California are reported to be down 23% over older models. Similar standards will be introduced nationwide next year. Secretary Finch, of the Department of Health, Education and Welfare, has issued a schedule for reducing automobile pollutants to about one-third by next year and 5% of the current amount by 1975.

DR. GRAVES TO CONTINUE COLLEGE

FRENCHBURG, KY. — Dr. Donald L. He will leave Mrs. Henry Ratliff in his office as his business agent.

MACHINE TO STRIP TOBACCO BEING DEVELOPED BY UK AG ENGINEERS

"Let a machine do it" is the goal of University of Kentucky agriculture engineers.

And they are making progress along many fronts to speed up farm chores and take the backaches out of them.

The mechanical tobacco stripper is one of the labor-saving devices under development at the University of Kentucky. UK ag engineers along with researchers from the Agricultural Research Service, USDA, have designed and built a working experimental prototype burley stripper.

Conventional hand stripping of an acre of burley takes about 123 man hours. The present system being developed by UK will strip and package an acre in about 10 hours, John E. Morrison, principal engineer on the project, said.

Separates Three Grades

"We hope to modify the present experimental stripper so it separates the leaves into three farm grades," he added. The leaves will be removed according to their position on the stalk and then carried by conveyors to separate parts of the packager.

The engineers are trying different packaging methods, such as compressing the tobacco into 50-to-70-pound bales with an ordinary haybaler. Another technique involves typing the burley in "sheets" similar to looseleaf flue-cured tobacco.

Some charges will be required in the marketing system before mechanically stripped and packaged tobacco can become a common practice. The quality of the leaves will not change, Morrison said, but mechanically handled tobacco will put a different looking product on the warehouse floor.

Separate sale days or sale areas might have to be established for packaged tobacco, and the tobacco companies will also want to test the acceptability of various types of packages, he added.

"We're still in the experimental stage," Morrison stressed, "but when this system is perfected, it will save the farmers about 84 per cent of the labor involved in stripping, sorting, and typing burley."

By next fall, the system may be far enough along to strip tobacco and separate it into three grades and then market it experimentally at the coming year's sale, he added.

Morrison believes that the system can be adapted to handle the dark - fired and dark air-cured tobacco grown in the western part of Kentucky.

OBITUARY

ROWLAND

In memory of Justin W. Rowland, born Oct. 31, 1910, a son of the late Joseph L. and Lucy Smith Rowland.

When a very small boy, his mother died and he lived with foster parents, Mr. and Mrs. Tom Henry Caskey until their death some years ago. For the last few years he had lived with his brother, Thomas Rowland, at Fairborn, Ohio.

He was 59 years, 5 months, and 22 days old at the time of his death, which occurred in Veterans Hospital, Dayton, Ohio, April 22, 1970.

He is survived by four brothers and one sister, Sewal Rowland and Robert Rowland of Ashland, Ky., Rudolph Rowland of Lima, Ky., and Thomas Rowland of Fairborn, Ohio and Mrs. Beatrice Roseberry of Torrance California.

He professed a hope in Christ and told several people not to worry about him that he had a better home to go to. To him death was gain. He moved from suffering in this world to a place of Eternal Rest.

Peace and Happiness with his loved ones who have gone on before to be with Jesus in that beautiful place that he went to prepare for all the Redeemed of his blood.

Therefore we weep not as those that have no hope but we are taught by the Holy Scripture that we will meet again and that we will know each other and that reunion will be eternal and that these bodies of ours will be perfect.

We will have no more pain. We will know no more sorrow and heartache. Our tongues will then be loosed and we will shout and praise God. Who gave his only begotten Son to redeem us from a violated law. We will Praise God for ever and ever while Eternal ages roll on.

2 LICKING RIVER PROJECTS GIVEN OKAY BY RESOR

Two federal projects on Licking River have been approved by Army Secretary Resor—the Royalton Reservoir in Magoffin and Midland project below Cave Run dam.

The Royalton Reservoir in the Licking River valley is one of two major Kentucky water resources projects recently recommended to the Congress by Secretary of the Army Resor, and it will be with other projects for priority in the order of construction.

The Magoffin County project would involve not only a major dam to be built by the Corps of Engineers but also three smaller reservoirs—on Burning Fork, Rockhouse Fork and Mash Fork—land treatment measures and economic and industrial development in the Royalton-Salysville area.

Cost of the main reservoir undertaking is estimated at $35 million. If the entire development program is done, the cost would be in excess of $24 billion.

The other major project recommended consists of watershed development, local protection and development of a new city of a potential 40,000 population at Midland, below the Cave Run Reservoir now under construction on the Licking River in Rowan County.

Secretary Resor said highest priority should be given to initiating state and local activity in support of the proposed program. Funding of the project would follow Resor's approval of state and local action.

That even would break to keep it.

Was there ever a name that lived like thine.

Will there ever be another? The Angels have reared in heaven a Shrine

To the holy name of Mother. Deep in each heart God puts the need

Of a love that is tender and strong.

The need of one who will understand

Each sorrow and share each song

And to us all, He grants one gift

Sweeter than any other, To answer this need for tenderness

He gives us each a Mother.

Aspirins have become a prime poisoner of children. Youngsters are often attracted to objects which resemble candy in bottles; aspirin and sleeping tablets should be kept well out of harm's reach for children.

IN MEMORY

A Mother's Day memorial to our grandmother, Mrs. Minnie Rowland, taken from Proverbs 31: "Who can find a virtuous woman? For her price is far above rubies. Strength and honour are her clothing; and she shall rejoice in time to come. She openeth her mouth with wisdom; and in her tongue is the law of kindness. Many daughters have done virtuously but thou excellest them all. Favour is deceitful, and beauty is vain; but a woman that feareth the Lord, she shall be praised."

REPORT FROM MORGAN TECH.

We, the children of Morgan Tech, wish to say "hello" to all our good friends in newspaper land, and to tell you that we have been working hard in school this year.

Would you like to know some of the things we are doing? Most of us have learned to read, write, do number work, color, cut pictures, and make scrap books. We have lessons in Health, Foods, and History. We also have memorized Psalms—100th and 23rd and are now learning the ten commandments. And you should hear us sing—maybe not so melodious, but we do have volume.

Mrs. Gardner and Miss Tarrant visit us each week and we would be glad for you to come in and play games and read stories to us.

Now that we are having a few pretty spring days, we spend part of the afternoon outside, but the grass needs mowing badly. The Woodsbend Camp boys mowed it for us last fall. Wonder if they would do it for us this spring? We sure would appreciate it.

You will be hearing from us again soon, so bye for now. Sincerely,

Connie, Kay, Alberta,

Junior, Russell, Phillip,

Derek, Joey, Ronnie.

ODDS AND ENDS

By Earl Kinner, Jr.

Though there's very little big news on the local scene this week, many readers will peruse The Courier with interest because its stories are about local people and local happenings. Nonetheless, as debate and dissension spread across the land, interest in the events in Indo-China and on the college campuses far overshadows the local news
 this week. In our humble opinion, there's little to debate.
 In time of national crisis, particularly in the area of foreign affairs, loyal Americans support their President.
 At least they do not hinder his course of action even if they disagree with him. They uphold government by law because they know that under the law the President can be removed from office at the next election if his decisions prove foolhardy or ineffectual. Loyal Americans may voice their doubts about the President's actions, but they do not resort to mob rule and violence in an effort to sabotage them. Those persons who do are either paid enemy
 agents, traitors, or d... fools.

The H. A. Wallace of Riverside Drive West Liberty feasted old time country style Monday night on "dry land
 fish," poke salet, and soup beans cooked with bacon. For the uninitiated, "dry land fish" are mushrooms, a local variety which H. A. picked in the woods hereabouts. The only mushrooms we'll eat come out of a can. Most folks nowadays can't tell a mushroom from a toadstool, and toadstools can kill you... quick.
 However, Mr. and Mrs. Wallace, both of whom were reared on the farm in Tennessee—where "dry land fish" were well known and coveted as a delicacy—know their way around the woods and what to pick and what not to pick. We know of a few others hereabouts who pick mushrooms, but we've never heard them called "dry land fish" before. Incidentally, local mushroom fanciers who discover a spot where mushrooms grow profusely are like ginseng hunters: they're not likely to broadcast their find to their neighbors.

Boy is our face red. And,
 folks, Wayne Webb at Dollar General Store wasn't trying to pull a fast one either. In fact, Mr. Webb was irritated some (actually, what it was, we suspect, he was downright angry)
 about them (blush) ladies' panty hose he had listed for sale
 in the Dollar General Store ad recently. The ad should have listed the aforementioned articles as "2 pair for $1.00."
 But it came out in the paper:
 "regular 50 cents pair, now 2 pair $1.00." The gremlins did it. Every printshop is plagued with gremlins which delight in such embarrassing pranks. Yes, that's it; it was gremlins.

Most Morgan Countians watch TV and most have seen the anti-cigarette commercial featuring Hollywood actor Tony Curtis. Well, old Tony may have quit smoking tobacco, but just for the record he was arrested
 the other day in London, England for possessing marijuana, confessed to the charge, and was fined $150.

A Robin heard a knock on his door one early morning.
 Opening the door, he saw it was a peddler and said: "No, we don't want any." And shut the door quickly, and went back to sleep.
 Later, when he was hungry and went out to find some worms, he found all the other Robins busy pulling big fat ones out of the ground. But, try as he would, he could not find a single worm for himself. He simply could not understand this—until he discovered that all the other Robins had taken time to listen to the peddler—and had bought worm-whistles from him!

MORAL: It often pays to listen to the fellow who wants to sell you something.
 —Bob Taylor

Kentucky Agriculture Commissioner Robert Miller warns rural property owners to be on the look out for traveling house painters offering fast service and bargain rates. Too often their paint jobs last only until the first hard rain. Spring always brings an influx of con-men of all types, so watch out

West Liberty residents may have noticed the dingy color of their drinking water during recent bouts of rainy weather and high, muddy waters. A new supply system remains West Liberty's number one need.

Spring cleaning time is rapid of paint and thinner. Keeping them around too long could lead to an explosive situation.

ASCS BALLOTS

 $76,193, a decrease of $3,687
 under last year.
 Manufacturers' inventories of raw materials are evaluated
 this year at $203,455, a decrease of $14,826. And valuation of manufacturing machinery is evaluated this year at $459,991, a decrease of $44,368.
 The increase of $1,395,697 in total tax assessments in Morgan County this year, though it amounts to a growth of 4.2 percent, still is short of the State Revenue Department's statewide average of 5.5 percent.

JFK LIBRARY
RECEIVES NEW BOOK SHIPMENT

Kennedy Memorial Library
 at West Liberty recently received a new shipment of books from the State Department of Libraries. Some of the titles included in the new shipment are—
 THE ALLIGATOR BRIDE, by Donald Hall. Poems by an outstanding contemporary poet.
 EVERYONE WAS BRAVE, by William O'Neill. This is the first book to deal with the failure of feminism as a social force in America and to examine seriously the feminist experience after 1920.

FELL'S GUIDE TO GUNS AND
 HOW TO USE THEM, by Byron Wells. Here is a complete book on the safe use of firearms, for the sportsman, hunter and collector. Every aspect is covered,
 from selecting a gun to cleaning,
 storing and shooting.

HIGH ON FOGGY BOTTOM, by Charles Frankel. The author was the Assistant Secretary of State for Educational and Cultural Affairs during the Johnson Administration. His book is one man's reaction to life in the higher reaches of the federal government.

THE LITTLE WAX DOLL, by Norah Lofts. This tale of modern witchcraft is a stunning portrayal of the macabre events that overtake a small English town.
 PANTHER, by Roger Caras. A panther padding through the Florida Everglades and envi-
 ons is the subject of a fascinating animal study.

RAISING PUPPIES FOR PLEA-SURE AND PROFIT, by Elizabeth Schuler. Every phase of breeding your dog from selecting the mate to caring for the newly arrived pups is covered clearly in detail.

THE SMILE ON THE FACE OF THE TIGER, by Douglas Hurd and Andrew Osmond. The chilling tale of a nuclear showdown triggered by a Red Chinese bid to take Hong Kong. Political intrigue at its best!
 THE WHITE MAN'S ROAD, by Benjamin Capps. A perceptive portrayal of the Comanche Indians as the white man closes in on them in the late 1800's.
 Also included in the shipment are a wide selection of children's books.
